A WORD FROM THE GOSPEL

In Luke's Gospel, the Beatitudes are addressed to those who have already chosen the Lord, to the disciples. Following him means abandon everything (Lk 9:23), renounce comfort (Lk 9:58), be detested (cf. Jn 17:14), estranged from the circles of power, money and honor (cf. Jn 16:2). His words refer to current situations: the abundance of goods, the insatiable pursuit of pleasure, the desire for success and applause, ... all these demands produce vanity (they give false security), they make us proud (they make us believe that we are more important than others), divinize (many people worship those who possess and prostrate themselves before them), harden (make them incomprehensible and lacking in solidarity), corrupt (end up oppressing, believing to do so also with God's blessing).

The Beatitudes warn us seriously: let us establish ourselves in the truth of Jesus and try not to be mistaken in the decisive moment.

PAROLA DEL VANGELO

Nel Vangelo di Luca, le beatitudini si rivolgono a coloro che hanno già scelto il Signore, ai discepoli. Seguirlo significa abbandonare tutto (Lc 9,23), rinunciare agli agi (Lc 9,58), essere detestati (cf. Gv 17,14), allontanati dalle cerchie del potere, dai soldi e dall'onore (cf. Gv 16,2). Le sue parole rimandano a situazioni correnti: l'abbondanza dei beni, la ricerca insaziabile del piacere, il desiderio del successo e dell'applauso,... tutte queste pretese producono la vanità (danno una falsa sicurezza), rendono orgogliosi (ci fanno credere che siamo più importanti degli altri), divinizzano (molte persone adorano coloro che posseggono e si prostrano davanti a loro), induriscono (rendono incomprensivi e privi di solidarietà), corrompono (finiscono per opprimere, credendo di farlo anche con la benedizione di Dio). Le beatitudini ci avvertono seriamente: stabiliamoci nella verità di Gesù e cerchiamo di non sbagliarci nel momento decisivo.
