A WORD FROM THE GOSPEL

The Gospel proposes to us today the renunciation of revenge and violence. In their place, Jesus imposes on his disciples the principle of non-resistance to evil and the commandment to love one's enemies. One does not triumph over evil with evil; one does not triumph over violence with violence. Evil and violence are overcome when they are allowed to dissolve, without relaunching them with a similar response. Hate can only be destroyed by the love that suffers it gratuitously. Jesus, knew well what it meant to be detested, stripped, beaten and killed. He loved those who hated him, he gave more than was taken from him, he blessed those who cursed him. Only in this way is this conduct justified. And that is why the only possible justification for these commandments of Jesus is his cross. Only the one who says "yes" to the cross of Christ can obey these precepts and find in obedience the fulfillment of the promise contained in them: good triumphs over evil through love.

PAROLA DEL VANGELO

Il Vangelo ci propone oggi la rinuncia alla vendetta e alla violenza. Al loro posto, Gesù impone ai suoi discepoli il principio della non resistenza al male e il comandamento dell'amore dei propri nemici. Non si trionfa sul male con il male; non si trionfa sulla violenza con la violenza. Il male e la violenza sono vinti quando li si lascia dissolvere, senza rilanciarli con una risposta analoga. L'odio non può essere distrutto che dall'amore che lo subisce gratuitamente. Di Gesù ha conosciuto bene che cosa voleva dire essere detestato, spogliato, percosso e ucciso. Egli ha amato coloro che lo odiavano, ha dato più di quanto non gli fosse stato tolto, egli ha benedetto coloro che lo maledicevano. Solo così questa condotta viene giustificata. Non è il prodotto di una saggezza profana, che implicherebbe una irresponsabilità criminale. Solo colui che dice "sì" alla croce di Cristo può obbedire a tali precetti e trovare nell'obbedienza il compimento della promessa contenuta in essi: il bene trionfa sul male attraverso l'amore.
