RECOGNIZE THE IMMENSE MYSTERY WE CELEBRATE

Manna was a food that the people of Israel did not know, and that the fathers themselves had never known. And do we know the gift of the Eucharist? Maybe we know him too much? Are we used to it? So, today's feast is a splendid occasion to recognize the holy mystery, the immense mystery that we celebrate. Jesus wished to stay close to us through the bread and wine consecrated by the words of his priests. It was heard! The Father has granted him this immeasurable self-giving in which he undresses himself and gives himself up to us, running the risk of being trampled on by sacrilege and, even worse, by indifference. Even though he was trampled on, he never gave up, he doesn't give up on giving himself: can there be greater love? Truly, Jesus' thirst was and is immense to give us true Life from down below, and to make us become one body in him. The Eucharist makes us alive, because it makes us "one". And the bread of pilgrims, to walk towards authentic love, that is towards Heaven. Blessed are the guests at the table of the Lamb!

RICONOSCERE L'IMMENSO MISTERO CHE CELEBRIAMO

La Manna era un cibo che il popolo d'Israele non conosceva, e che gli stessi padri non avevano mai conosciuto. E noi conosciamo il dono dell'Eucaristia? Magari lo conosciamo troppo? Ci siamo abituati? Allora l'odierna festa è un'occasione splendida per riconoscere il santo mistero, l'immenso mistero che celebriamo. Gesù desiderò restarci vicino attraverso il pane e il vino consacrati dalle parole dei suoi sacerdoti. Fu esaudito! Il Padre gli ha concesso questo donarsi smisurato in cui si spoglia, e si consegna a noi, correndo il rischio di essere calpestato da sacrilegi e, peggio ancora, dall'indifferenza. Pur calpestato, non ha mai rinunciato, non rinuncia a donarsi: può darsi amore più grande? Davvero, era ed è immensa la sete di Gesù di donarci la Vita vera fin da guaggiù, e di farci diventare in lui un solo corpo. L'Eucaristia ci fa vivi, perché ci fa "uno". E il pane dei pellegrini, per camminare verso l'Amore autentico, cioè verso il Cielo. Beati gli invitati alla mensa dell'Agnello!
