READINGS for SUNDAY, Sept. 20TH
(25th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME)

1st Reading - Isaiah 55.6 - 9

2nd Reading - Philippians 1.20 - 24, 27

Gospel - Matthew 20.1 - 16

THE SALARY WILL BE IMMENSE!

Why give the same salary to those who worked the whole day and to those who worked only an hour? That is our spontaneous reaction to the Gospel parable. But, in truth, why not do it? Why be envious? Why should God be compelled to act according to our standards? In reality, knowing that God's designs and ways are not like ours is truly joyful news: there is a hope on earth and for eternity that goes far beyond our merits! God's tenderness extends to all creatures, and His measure is to have no measure—to borrow the words of Saint Bernard. The Apostle Paul was convinced of this. For him, living—living fully—is not just scraping by or building a future through one's own efforts: for him, to live is Christ! We must embrace a divine plan that does not deny our thinking but transcends it. True life means living of Jesus, with Jesus, and for Jesus. At whatever hour of our lives we find ourselves, the Father calls us to live of Jesus by working diligently in the vineyard of mutual love. The salary will be immense. Always disproportionate to our work!

IL SALARIO SARÀ IMMENSO!

Perché dare il medesimo salario a chi ha lavorato l'intera giornata e a chi ha lavorato solo un'ora? Questa la nostra reazione spontanea alla parabola del Vangelo. Ma, a dire il vero, perché non farlo? Perché essere invidiosi? Perché Dio sarebbe costretto ad agire secondo i nostri criteri? In realtà, sapere che i disegni e i modi di fare di Dio non sono simili ai nostri è un lietissimo annuncio: vi è una speranza sulla terra e per l'eternità che va ben oltre i nostri meriti! La tenerezza di Dio si espande su tutte le creature e la sua misura è di non avere misura, per riprendere le parole di san Bernardo. Ne era convinto l'apostolo Paolo. Per lui, vivere, vivere pienamente non è cavarsela e costruirsi un futuro con le proprie forze: per lui vivere è Cristo! Bisogna acconsentire a un disegno divino che non nega ma sovrasta il nostro pensiero. La vita vera è vivere di Gesù, con Gesù e per Gesù. In qualunque ora della nostra vita ci troviamo, il Padre ci chiama a vivere di Gesù lavorando con impegno alla vigna dell'amore reciproco. Il salario sarà immenso. Sempre sproporzionato rispetto al nostro lavoro!
